

Technology, Leadership, and Liberal Democracy | a YouTube case study

May 1st 2017

Jordan Lafland email: jordan@laf.land

Abstract

This document argues for a [n/official content] naming convention among the Democratic Leadership of the United States of America

now, in the year 2017, in terms of technology, specifically YouTube. (As freely available as widely used)

And this naming convention is a method of which implemented by the party will result in cohesion, strength, for by preserving naming conventions on official content to control, access, acknowledge, will push/further/press the image / mission of the party.

In fact, below argues this 'technology [generally]' and the control of: this "'technology [generally]'" is the destiny of liberal democracy, in the sense of realizing a moral and just system over which to do so. Entailing the use of a channel, freely accessible, and primary. Such as are important the official YouTube channels of US Senators and Representatives, Democratic Party*

Intro

We will always be fighting for regularity in and against a system that knows disorder, works, disorder, that is - always (moving) highly ordered systems to low order or disorder. Unlike that an organization, a thinking entity, ordering certain (inner) systems. Here, as a larger system is brought to disorder, that is, brought into chaos, a system of energy transferring always down, always in the net direction (to)--> disorder - but among which pockets came into being and exist, chiefly life.

Sir, Senator Leahy,

I know you are the absolute right person to address this very-open letter to.

As you know Vermont is a truly blessed place, and is perhaps the longest intact continuous democracy, being an independent democratic republic prior to the establishment of this nation. You are our leader, you are the ranking member of the senate. Many people, most people, do not know- how crucial you were during the previous 'Bush' decades, serving as pro-tempore, you, the democratic senator from Vermont, were third in line for the presidential succession, there may very soon come a time when you will serve that position again.

And this I pledge to you: I will work with all I can muster: contribute to, help move which will inevitably see you again as not only, now, ranking member of the senate, but de facto enshrined with constitutional authority as pro-tempore leader. So we must prepare. Take back the house, win. Take back the senate, champion. Take back the executive and govern.

Note: Research materials were gathered until May 7th 2007, see JASON Data sets below. May 1 2017 corresponds to the original authoring of many parts of this text as well as a is symbolic day: for labor activism: May Day.

Technology, Leadership, and Liberal Democracy | a YouTube case study

May 1st 2017

Jordan Lafland email: jordan@laf.land

Those (naming convention among Democratic leadership) are things that should have been weeded out from the get go.

{{figure 1}}

- 1) Inconsistent channel names
- 2) sponsored 'official' content
- 3) Non-sponsored 'friendly' channel i.e free promotion by an individual, or group'

Findings:

- Delegating / delivering content distribution over official channels strengthens the party
- We see the consistent diminution of our authority as sources
- It is important is to preserve the record, distribute the record, and to know and own it. In those ordered parameters we have a powerful platform at our disposal. And it is a means of control over our image, message, and *destiny

Figure One: Authoritative vs non authoritative sources on a Sample YouTube feed^2

Technology, Leadership, and Liberal Democracy | a YouTube case study

May 1st 2017

Jordan Lafland email: jordan@laf.land

Senator Elizabeth Warren's Testimony on the Financial Choice Act

Senator Elizabeth Warren
2,494 views NEW

Bernie Sanders In A Candid Conversation With Sarah Silverman

NowThis
Recommended for you

Senator Warren in the Fight Against Trumpcare

Senator Elizabeth Warren
1,681 views NEW

President Trump is Creating Chaos: Senator Elizabeth Warren at Health Care Hearing

Senator Elizabeth Warren
4,867 views

Senator Elizabeth Warren questions Wells Fargo CEO John Stumpf at Banking

Senator Elizabeth Warren
864,820 views

Democrats Sing, Republicans Laugh While America Cries As Obamacare Dies

The Young Turks
159,933 views NEW

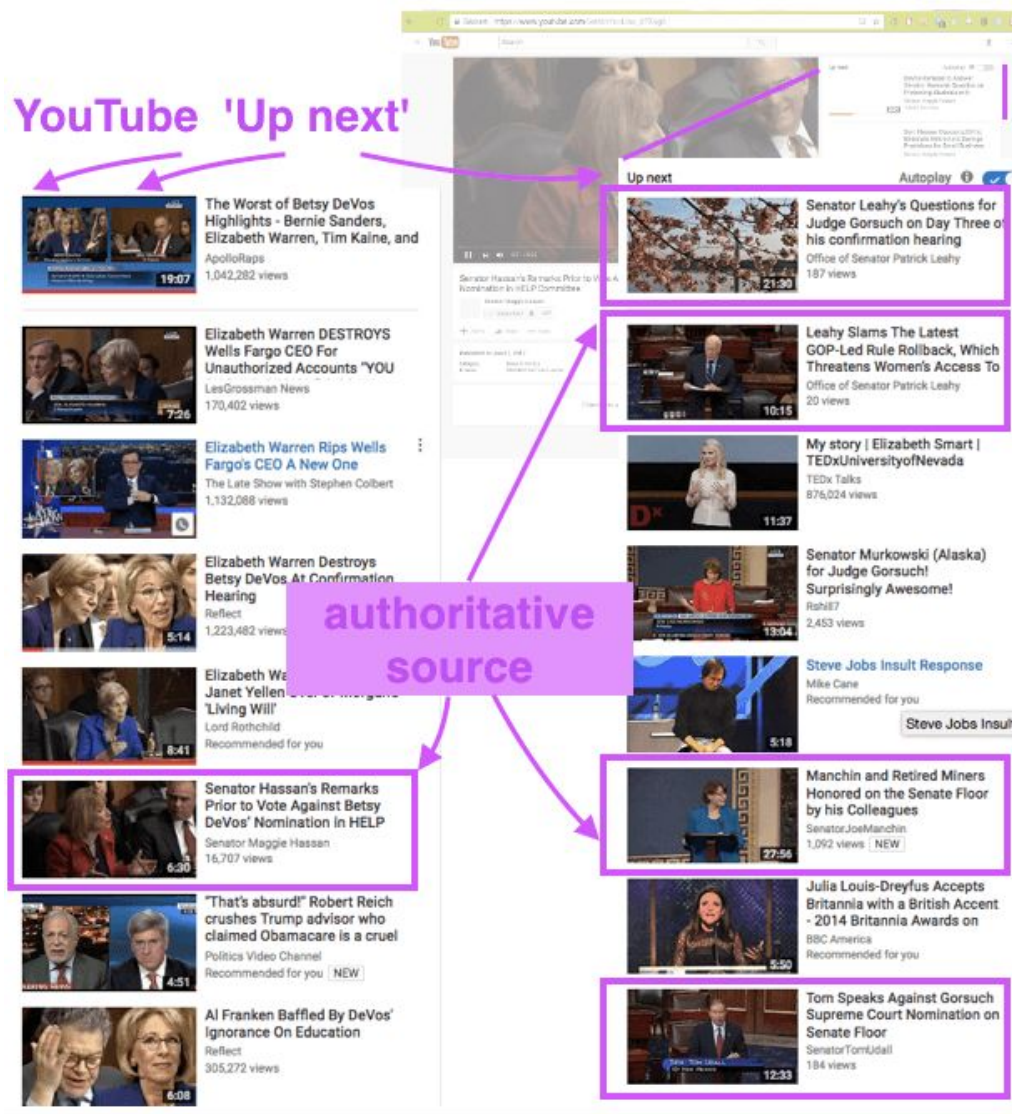

McCAIN FLOOR SPEECH ON JUDGE GORSUCH NOMINATION FOR U.S.

Senator John McCain
Recommended for you

Technology, Leadership, and Liberal Democracy | a YouTube case study

May 1st 2017

Jordan Lafland email: jordan@laf.land

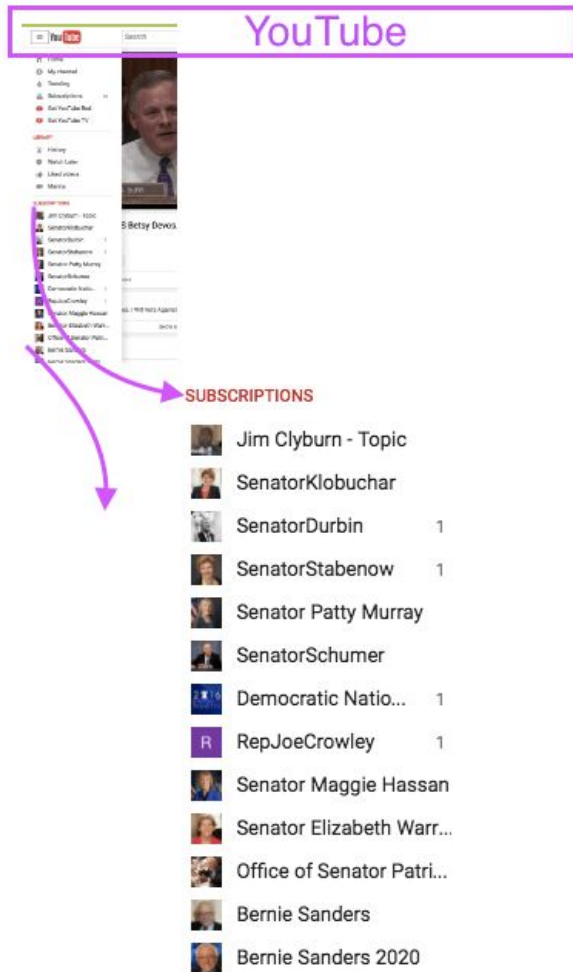

In the figure above i must point out this is not what a normal person would see on youtube ever, my account what tailored by me, still i see more than ½ spam.

Figure 2 Channel names /subscription

Technology, Leadership, and Liberal Democracy | a YouTube case study

May 1st 2017

Jordan Lafland email: jordan@laf.land

Discussion;

Friend we can all be Bernie Sanders and Warren's, we can all be stars. I mean you tube channels with thousands of followers, hundreds of thousands of views, over their (chiefly by a factor of 10 Sanders and Warren's)^1 official channels over any other among the democratic leadership. [and if us senators have <50 views per video I can only imagine local electors have no motivation, and may be embarrassed to post a video of a critical action].

I honestly have not and will not even consider looking up the other side to pairwise compare. But I know delegating content distribution over official channels strengthens the party. All our leaders have great great original content, with ~<5 -150 views over a span of months or even years. [SEE FIGURE D BELOW] These are official YouTube channels have no uniformity among them such as User Name or 'title' of video uploads. What I do know is the extreme quality, importance, of this work, what (is unlike in access/'views') I have seen is unified in content, tasteful, I soak it up and love it.

Technology, Leadership, and Liberal Democracy | a YouTube case study

May 1st 2017

Jordan Lafland email: jordan@laf.land

It is a simple discredit to let this resource go untapped and, also, to let others take (creating annoying content, waterdown to the extent that it is, secondary [evidentially], non-authoritative: Honest commentary (potentially, even) but we are letting you tube channels get away with what is ours. Often the ratio of content to commentary in a <10 min video is ~ 50:50, tending more on the side of commentary, for it is in the best interest of these producers and creators to further their own image even 'monetize' the message, not wholly corrupt, but only in the interest of the party when which aligns to moral and ethical standards. The most widely consumed content is the most mast produced, yet, unless we are careful whom we trust, we will see, as now, the consistent diminution of our authority as sources. \[primary, consistent, and powerful due to easy organization]: What is in the best will of the people will become.

Establish some uniformity in pattern for naming

User: Senator Patrick Leahy (for example)

this is the naming convention followed or established by Warren and Sanders

don't camel case like, e.g., JohnMills

Less than ten minutes

Further norms can be established for the purpose of optimizing access, accessibility, integrity

Use some convention, Google would likely be happy to help in the special case where something like a username seemingly cannot be altered.

What is important is to preserve the record, distribute the record, and to know and own it. In those ordered parameters we have a powerful platform at our disposal. And it is a means of control over our image, message, and destiny. Destiny, only a word, yet I believe liberal democracy has a tremendous and great future as it has: I believe in liberal democracy, and I know how blind I am. I am blind to the reality, I am optimistic about the future chiefly because I am not subject to wrongdoings in the past. In my past, my life I can fight, work, for what I believe. And rather than working against our enemies let us work for ourselves. Let us build the future. I see the Democratic Party becoming a digital construction. One day the protests will end. We will be at peace, and I believe it will be when truly, power rests in the hands of those we trust, when and where everything is open (governed by a sophisticated and yet not (until) realized moral philosophy, lived, where exactly harm is only an abstract concept. And people there know only respect and kindness. It is a like cause and unity that brings us together: technology [and, it is a means of our humanity, the like of which we are desperate for, as in (now disparate) human rights, worker's rights, liberties and fraternity. Only us, proprietors of liberal concepts, and only you, our leaders, can ultimately secure us. For in a democracy we are empowered and - of free mind and conscious give you, representors, our bodily powers of will trusting in you like and kind. So we must realize this, a system of true democracy, settling down

Technology, Leadership, and Liberal Democracy | a YouTube case study

May 1st 2017

Jordan Lafland email: jordan@laf.land

onto its master: technology, of which we control. And which is truly the controller of the world, youtube, apple, other industry have built a technology which is powerfully in hands by them and powerful in any hands, it could have been us who made this great technology and brought peace to do so, but now this is all our task, and as always and I believe it is but a snap to the inevitable that is our way.

Notes:

Form a coherent front, it can only work for you never against one's own causes;

The more authoritative the source the hire and more like it is to be featured in a feed.

A simple analysis among democratic leadership shows most have official accounts spanning the past 5-6 years, most have 3 or more videos, most all of these have less than 100-200 views on average, and that is being generous.

What i suggest is we capitalize on what we have, use what we have. Honesty, foresight, ethics/morality/justice. The world is one thing and our beliefs are another. I choose my heart mind, body, soul, and I believe liberal democracy is the future, in so much as it is wholly within our capacity to realize. (And what seems costly now is not costly in the end) Take healthcare where the standard end is a single payer efficient system.

2. Note on every shown figure subtract one or more view and one or more like (I have started this document after already enacting a strategy, skewing positively the baseline figures- my estimation is it takes a slight push sometimes to gain momentum.

Youtube is my only direct access to [official] sponsored content.

I am a software developer in NY but I try not to even use google, never have had facebook and don't use twitter or instagram or any other social media besides LinkedIn.

Chamipons

Among the 18 members of the leadership I have constructed data sets (Nancy Pelosi is large and soon to come) I have published these data sets here: github consisting of the following points:

```
{
  "time": " 8:05 ",
  "name": "Senator Klobuchar on Morning Meeting",
  "views": "81 views",
  "date": "7 years ago"
},
```

Technology, Leadership, and Liberal Democracy | a YouTube case study

May 1st 2017

Jordan Lafland email: jordan@laf.land

Video name duration title and relative time stamp to May 5 2017

FIGURE D: (A)

House

<http://www.house.gov/leadership/>

Democratic Leadership

House [\[RAW DATA HERE ON GITHUB\]](#)

Office & name	Position	# videos, Channel,	Average #views	proof/ notes
Nancy Pelosi	Democratic Leader	2,284 /user/NancyPelosi	Range to 300,000
Steny Hoyer	Democratic Whip	781 /user/LeaderHoyer	Range 200-200	More than 8 years
Rep. James Clyburn	DemAssistant Democratic Leader	234 /user/RepJamesClyburn	100-500	Over 6 years
Joseph Crowley	Democratic Caucus Chairman	Topic 3 unofficial	1-1000

Senate

Office & name	Position	Channel, # videos	Average #views	proof/ notes
Charles E. Schumer – (D – NY) schumer.senate.gov	Democratic Leader	27. user/ChuckSchumer	Range 467-3,370
Dick Durbin – (D – IL) durbin.senate.gov	Assistant Democratic Leader	1054, user/SenatorDurbin	See file
Debbie Stabenow – (D – MI) stabenow.senate.gov	Chairwoman of Policy and Communications Committee	77, user/SenatorStabenow
Elizabeth Warren – (D – MA) warren.senate.gov	Vice Chair of Conference	293, user/senelizabethwarren/
Mark Warner – (D – VA)	Vice Chair of Conference	538, user/SenatorMarkWarner

Technology, Leadership, and Liberal Democracy | a YouTube case study

May 1st 2017

Jordan Lafland email: jordan@laf.land

warner.senate.gov
Amy Klobuchar – (D – MN) klobuchar.senate.gov	Chair of Steering Committee	41, user/SenatorKlobuchar/
Bernard Sanders – (I – VT) sanders.senate.gov	Chairman of Outreach	1,108 /user/SenatorSanders
Joe Manchin – (D – WV) manchin.senate.gov	Vice Chairman of Policy and Communications Committee	367 /user/SenatorJoeManchin		Y
Tammy Baldwin – (D – WI) baldwin.senate.gov	Secretary of the Conference	233, /user/SenatorTammyBaldwin
Chris Van Hollen – (D – MD) vanhollen.senate.gov	Chairman of Campaign Committee	350, user/RepChrisVanHollen

YouTube a strong primary source of the Democratic Party

democrat elizabeth democrat leahy
democrat union
democrat value
democrat warren
democrat weare
democrat workers

democracy.fyi democrat.codes
democrat.computer democrat.download democrat.fyi
democrat.healthcare
democrat.hosting

Technology, Leadership, and Liberal Democracy | a YouTube case study

May 1st 2017

Jordan Lafland email: jordan@laf.land

democrat.software

democrat.work

democratic.technology

democratic.tech